views on which elements to build and where to build them. Your input is paramount. That said, I have attached the full community letter below. You may have seen a more partial draft before. This is THE completed version, while keeping some of the same key points, including a downtown community walkway, public parking garage, and ballpark access. Now, it's your turn to give a direction. So, what should downtown Albuquerque be in 3, 5, 10 years? The biggest hurdle for big projects like this is a general lack of community buy-in. There are several people who love your ideas, such as the catch-and-release program, but there are others who think that some long-discussed "next-step" ideas are being further delayed by this downtown package. Please take 5 minutes to reply. Realize that we won't know until we hear your plan. * * ***

"The Downtown Streetscape Plan is now opened for input from the general public and all City Council members. As you have all noticed, this is a huge and incredibly complex project designed to address many of our downtown's issues. Our ability to develop wise, forward-thinking measures to address these problems will depend upon your time, candor and thoughtful comments. We believe that this project can meet many of our downtown's needs including: improving access and mobility and addressing parking issues, food and beverage and arts and entertainment needs, protecting historic buildings, attracting businesses to downtown and continuing to make our downtown an attractive and welcoming place for all residents and workers. We have heard that some Council members would prefer to wait several months before setting a timeline for this work. We encourage all the Council members and members of the public to review the entire plan and take as much time as they need. We will then compile a list of all the priorities and concerns and invite individuals to a series of public meetings where we can share the list of priorities and get community input in what we need to do. The important issues addressed in the seven major sections include
